"Berry's for Clothes"

"Here's a sassy bonnet!" Very popular in New York. Right here also—and dozens of other styles, $2 up.

And suits that disport themselves in the Great White Way. You can have them before they've turned the corner.

Prices, $15 to $25. But the man of quiet taste is not content with quiet leaders in new ways and combinations of blue, beautiful browns and greenish mixtures, $25 to $40.

Overalls too. Everything for men's and boys' fall wear.

WIFE PAWNS GEMS TO TIDE HIM OVER

Estranged for Twenty Years From General Sickles, She Saves His Treasures.

New York, September 13.—This was the day set for the sale of the art treasures of General Daniel H. Sickles, veteran soldier and diplomat, who in the eighty-seventh year of his romantic and honorable life had met with such reverses that the credit had been called upon to settle a $250,000 debt.

But the sale will not take place. General Sickles' family has announced that the judgment had been satisfied. The general will continue on the possession of the things of beauty and antiquity which have been the chief delight of his waking days.

That is perhaps all that the general would care to know. But behind the scenes of his life was an act of gentle sacrifice, a sacrifice which was made for him by his wife.

She has lived with him. She has lived with him. She has lived with him.

She has lived with him. She has lived with him. She has lived with him.

She has lived with him. She has lived with him. She has lived with him.
